ELC News Alert

Issue 1

January/February 2011

President's Message

Dear Friends,

Despite the continued economic challenges, we are excited about the progress we made in 2010 and the momentum we carried into 2011. Based on the growing interest in the Children's Movement of Florida and the turnout at its community events, it is clear that Floridians care deeply about the well-being and education of our infants, toddlers and all children.

The Association of Early Learning Coalitions has launched an initiative to ensure that children remain center stage and that State policies follow the science of how children learn and thrive. Additionally, the Early Learning Advisory Council continues to be very active and their governor-appointed, private-sector membership is fully committed to ensuring that Governor Rick Scott is fully aware of the challenges and economic growth opportunities in Florida's early education system.

We are also blessed that our good friends at the Florida Children's Services Council, the Florida AfterSchool Network, chambers of commerce throughout Florida, private foundations, child care providers and other partners continue to work in partnership with Early Learning Coalitions to ensure that all of Florida's children remain high on the list of funding priorities.

I wish you all the very best for the new year.

I remain at your service,

Sincerely,

Evelio C. Torres
President & CEO

Our Kids Honors Judge Cindy Lederman on National Adoption Day

On November 19, 2010, the Miami-Dade community gathered to celebrate National Adoption Day at the Miami Children's Museum. Our Kids, renowned for being the leading agency with the highest number of adoptions in the State, honored Judge Cindy Lederman for her tireless dedication to uniting new and loving families in adoption. Judge Lederman's unflinching advocacy was evident in her ruling against the 33-year-old law that prohibited gay couples from adopting in the State of Florida.

Pictured to the right is the Hon. Cindy Lederman performing an adoption at the National Adoption Day celebration at Miami Children's Museum.

For those who are unemployed and wish to inquire about their benefits, they may call AWI's Unemployment Compensation Hotline at 1-800-204-2418 or visit the agency's website at www.floridajobs.org. Hotline hours are 6:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. on Monday through Friday, and 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. on Saturday. The schedule is tentative however, and subject to change pending legislative updates.

Traditional Drop-Side Cribs have been Outlawed

After more than 30 infant and toddler deaths last year, the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) officially outlawed the manufacture, sale, and re-sale of drop-side cribs. While these cribs were initially designed to aid parents in easily lifting their babies up and out via a drop-down side-rail, the results of malfunctioning and cheaply-made parts often led to tragedy as infants got caught in the partially detached rails.

More than nine million drop-side cribs have been recalled in the past five years. Parents and caregivers are advised to check that each part on the rail of their drop-down crib is properly and securely assembled. Also, please ensure your crib has not been recalled. For more information, please review the CPSC's press release on crib-safety at <http://www.cpsc.gov/CPSCPUB/PREREL/prhtml11/11074.html>.

Team Member Spotlight

Nicole Bardin began her tenure at the ELC as the Quality Counts Data and Workflow Manager almost three years ago. Over time she transitioned into her current position, the program's Implementation and Workflow Manager. Nicole is responsible for managing the workflow of Quality Counts' quality rating improvement system (QRIS), assisting in the management of the program's web-based early learning system (WELS), building community partnerships and facilitating collaboration, quarterly and monthly reporting, and other special projects.

In her work at the Coalition, Nicole says she feels proud to be part of the team that administers Quality Counts, a quality enrichment program that impacts the lives of children, families, and early childhood professionals in Miami-Dade County. Also just as meaningful to her is, "my own personal and professional development in this position. I can work full-time and complete my doctorate in educational leadership with a focus in technology."

Nicole's previous professional experience included tenures in child welfare; eligibility, determination, and enrollment (case management); and stints in both early childhood and high-school education as a teacher.

In her free time Nicole enjoys spending time with her husband and yellow lab named Buddha.

ELC's BOD Approves a Provider Reimbursement Rate Alignment

The Early Learning Coalition's Board of Directors approved a reimbursement rate alignment for those providers who meet the requirements and have had rate changes since January 1, 2010, as reported on the most recent market rate survey. The goal of this adjustment is to ensure all eligible providers are in line to receive the maximum reimbursement rate provided by the Coalition. For a schedule of the maximum rates, please visit <http://www.elcmdm.org/downloads/schoolreadiness/0809ProviderPayRatesMiami.pdf>.

Please note that reimbursement rates paid by the Coalition cannot exceed the rates charged for private-pay children.

If you have any questions, please contact Jackye Russell at 305-646-7220.

ELC Board Approves Two New Important Provider Policies

Two new important provider policies have been approved by the Coalition's Board. One policy requires that School Readiness providers in Miami-Dade County receiving federal and state funds must become licensed by July 1, 2010.

The other is the Child Safety and Licensing Policy which states that providers who have one Class I violation or two Class II violations within a twelve-month period will be notified of possible suspension from the School Readiness program. Both policies are implemented to ensure that only the highest quality care, education, and safety are provided for our children. To learn more details about each policy, please visit www.elcmdm.org.

Quality Counts

Early care and education centers voluntarily participate in Quality Counts (QC), Miami-Dade County's quality rating improvement system, for a variety of reasons, perhaps the primary being formal validation (the star rating!) for providing high-quality care for children.

Quality Counts encourages its providers to promote the fact that they are 'proudly participating' in Quality Counts and publicize their individual star rating. This is a great opportunity to let your parents and community know that your focus on high-quality is making a difference in the lives of the children in your care.

The Children's Trust via Quality Counts at the Early Learning Coalition of Miami-Dade/Monroe has created a CD-Rom filled with templates and tools to market your QC status, regardless of whether you are star-rated or not. The Quality Counts Marketing Toolkit is now available to QC-participating centers on The Children's Trust website at <http://www.thechildrenstrust.org/quality-counts-qrisc#links>. This link can only be activated with a password which you must acquire from the Quality Counts office at the ELC at 305-646-7242. Please note that you must be an active center or family child care home participating in Quality Counts to access this password-protected file.

Also, please visit the "Our Programs" list on The Children's Trust website; it includes QC-participating providers with their current star ratings and is accessible to everyone at <http://www.thechildrenstrust.org/program-directory>. Select "Child Care Center" or search for your favorite program. Please note that the Coalition is working on a similar webpage to be unveiled soon.

Quality Counts realizes that in today's economy every opportunity to promote your business is valuable. Promote your Quality Counts participation with pride!

Please Inform Quality Counts if you are a First-Time Accredited Provider!

The ELC would like to recognize child care centers and family child care homes that achieved accreditation for the first time between January 1, 2010 through December 31, 2010. If you achieved any Florida-approved accreditation in 2010, please contact Oderay Veliz at 305-646-7220, ext. 232.
